BALLOT REFORM IN CONNECTICUT.

ENQUIRY AS TO WHAT MEASURES WILL FOLLOW THE GOVERNOR'S RECENT VETO.

Hartford, Conn., June 9.—The veto of the Secret Ballot bill by Governor Bulkeley was so unexpected that the leaders of the reform were unable on the instant to know just what action to take. The House, to be sure, did pass the bill over the veto by a large majority with a small attendance, but as no discussion had taken place upon the matter the motion was reconsidered and laid upon the table out of courtesy to the Governor. The matter will come up in the House on Tuesday, and the fate of the reform, so far as this Legislature is concerned, will be settled. The friends of the measure will rally to the support of it as strongly as possible, but the present House is very uncertain and quite as likely to swallow its own measures on a reconsideration as to do anything else. It is the evident plan of the leaders of the party who are in sympathy with Governor Bulkeley's views to draft a secret ballot bill which shall be simpler in its operation and less expensive to the State. It is possible, also, that the ballot reform men, if they are convinced that they cannot carry the measure over the veto, will assist in framing a measure that will preserve some of the features of the Australian system. For the present, however, they will do all in their power to push the bill through as it stands.

Governor Bulkeley's reasons are the familiar ones that were argued against it in the hearing before the committee, but he is positive in his conviction that the bill is not called for by the people of the State at this session. Therefore, he suggests that the bill be printed with the session laws and continued to the next Assembly, in order that the people may have sufficient time for the consideration of the reform. As it is set forth by this paper, with the leaders of the party prepared as a substitute for the vetoed bill, there is nothing as yet, but them for the vetoed bill, that can be substituted something.

NEWARK'S WATER CONTRACT—THE CUSTODY OF CHILDREN.

Trenton, N. J., June 9.—The meeting of the Society of the Army of the Potomac at Orange, N. J., this week has aroused great interest. When the suggestion was made in the Legislature last winter that the Governor be authorized to make special arrangements in honor of the society, there was eager acquiescence. The affair will consequently have a certain State significance, and the parade of the National Guard will be only one incident.

The flood at Johnstown has caused an investigation of reservoirs and dams, of which there are hundreds throughout the northern part of the State. The weak spot developed is on one of the long levels of the Morris Canal above Paterson, where the canal is carried
